U.S. Senate Candidate to kick off the Deaton Heartland Liberty Tour

New Lebanon, Ohio - Southwestern Ohio area resident Eric Deaton, who is on the November 2nd general election ballot for the U.S. Senate, will soon kick off a 50 city tour of Ohio with appearances covering a wide swath of the state. Candidate Deaton has said, "This is a tour to take my message to the citizens of Ohio that the two party system has failed our nation and that they have clear choice for a new direction this fall. We need to reclaim the Constitutional Republic that our Founding Fathers gave to us and get back to being an innovative, growing country filled with liberty and freedom for all." The tour will cover a wide swath of the state stretching from the northwest to the southeast, but avoid the large cities being campaigned heavily by the Republican and Democrat candidates. "We wanted to visit the Heart of it All and take Mr. Deaton's one-of-a-kind message to the towns and citizens off the usual beaten campaign paths. The tour will cover cities with a combined population of over half a million Ohioans that are hungry for a good person to represent them, their state and their nation," said Mr. Deaton's campaign manager, Gale Joy.

Some small towns may be quick stops with such as East Fultonham with a population of 156, but several larger cities will be visited including Findlay, Lancaster, Lima and Marion. A complete list of cities and dates will be posted on the campaign website www.deatonforsenate.com. All interested voters and groups are asked to visit the website or his Facebook fan site Eric Deaton for US Senate for more information.
